C. Project Management, Approach, and Responsiveness (350 points)

Provide a description in more technical detail of at least one primary project completed within the last three years. This project should demonstrate working knowledge and experience performing an asbestos and lead paint survey as well as overseeing and managing asbestos and lead abatement activities. City of Phoenix project experience is not required.

1. Discuss the oversight of abatement activities and how contingencies at the site were handled.
2. Describe any supplemental tasks that were deemed necessary, recommended or provided (solicited or unsolicited), which enhanced outcome, reduced cost, or expedited safe completion.
3. Describe the approach and methodology used, in conducting, sampling, and reporting for asbestos and lead surveys.
 - a. Example Report: Provide an example of your asbestos and lead report survey format. Appendices such as lab reports can be omitted. However, provide company specific survey items such as material sample sheets, sample location maps, etc. The Example Reports will not count toward the overall maximum page limit of the submittal
4. Describe the approach and methodology used, in preparing abatement design and managing the oversight of asbestos and lead projects. Include your methodology for preparing a final abatement closeout report.
 - a. Example Report: Provide an example of your asbestos and lead abatement closeout report format. Appendices such as lab reports, daily logs, contractor documents can be omitted. However, show what appendices and documents are typically included in your reports and provide company specific oversight items such as hourly and daily logs, air/wipe/soil sample log sheets and location maps, etc. The Example Reports will not count toward the overall maximum page limit

5. Include a brief discussion of your approach to project issues such as troubleshooting, dispute resolution, submittal of reports, submittal of samples, and any other pertinent matters

All other terms and conditions remain unchanged.

Sincerely,

Michael Soto III
